The silver market attracted an unusual share of attention to-day. In London the market is flat and a movement is said to have been started to advocate the suspension of further coloage of the metal in India. At home the enthusiasts are in a bad way. When Congress authorized the purchase of 4,500,000 omees monthly a small pool was made to put up the price on the theory that the Government would clean up the surplus. As a mater of fact the market price of silver has steadily declined and the Treasure Department has never experienced any difficulty in securing its quota from month to month.

The Treasury Department to-day purchased $1,000 ounces of silver at $4.48. The offerings were again near the million mark—agregating 918,000 ounces. The quotation regating $18,000 ounces. The quotation or certificates dropped to 83% bid and 844

Sterling exchange is a shade easier, but bits are difficult to get. Discounts in Paris have declined, and there is less likelihood of a demand for gold from that centre.

Silver in London has failen to 3836d, per ounce. Local operators have been seriously hurt by the steady, decline in the metal. The quotation for silver certificates here is $4½ bid and $456 asked.
